RE: Informational Update on Conformity Analysis for the 2015 Transportation Improvement Program and Plan Bay Area

MTC staff is continuing to develop the 2015 Transportation Improvement Program (TIP) and Plan Bay Area (Plan) conformity analysis. MTC is scheduled to release the Draft Transportation Air Quality Conformity Analysis for the 2015 TIP and Plan Bay Area for public comment on Thursday, June 26, 2014. As mentioned previously, the conformity analysis is required as part of the TIP approval to determine that the region is in compliance with federal emissions requirements.

The 2015 TIP and Plan conformity analysis includes updated project delivery information for those projects whose completion years have shifted since adoption of Plan Bay Area and the 2013 TIP. This updated project information required a new conformity analysis to be completed and the analysis does not add any new projects.

3ai_Attach1.pdf lists the projects in the Draft 2015 TIP which required updates to the milestone years modeled in the conformity analysis and 3aii_Attach2.pdf lists the corresponding milestone year modeling changes for project included in Plan Bay area.

In addition, MTC staff has and will continue to review the conformity analysis and any comments received with the Air Quality Conformity Task Force, as required by Commission policy.
